Women and Care: a Perspective from Greece

Judy Triantafillou

50plus Hellas

Keywords: women's role, NGO, care

Women's role as both informal and formal care providers, as well as recipients of care, will be briefly examined from a Greek perspective.

Focusing on care of older people as a human right, insights into the health and social care sectors will be presented as they have developed over the past decades, with reference to public, NGO, charitable and private sector provision and with proposals for instituting a National Action Plan to uphold older people's rights to care.
